2. The marathon is quite popular in recent (最近的) years. We know the marathon is a long-distance (距離) running race of 42.195 kilometers (26.219 miles). A lot of people join all kinds of marathons every year, but few of them know how marathon got its name. In fact, the name came from the legend (傳說) of a Greek messenger (信使), Pheidippides. He was said to have run all the way from Marathon to Athens to report the victory (勝利) in the Battle of Marathon in 490 B.C. He died after that.

The marathon became one of Olympic events (比賽項目) in 1892, but the event was only for men at that time. The first winner was Spyridon Louis, a Greek water-carrier. He spent two hours fifty-eight minutes and fifty seconds finishing his running. The marathon for women was first held in 1984, and the first winner was an American, Joan Benoit. It took her two hours twenty-four minutes and fifty-two seconds to finish her running.

According to (根據) the IAAF (國際田徑總會), the following man and woman are the top fastest (updated September 2016).

Name	country	time	date	Place
Dennis Kimetto	Kenya	2:02:57	2014.9.28	Berlin
Paula Radcliffe	UK	2:15:25	2003.4.13	London

4. Dear Director (鄉長) Wang,

I'm Jack Chang, a member of Green Town. We are happy to have a nice, comfortable town since you are our director. Thanks. However, something is changing.

Several weeks ago, I was told there were great snakeheads in the river in the park. These days, more and more great snakeheads were caught. What's even worse, a piranha was caught yesterday!

That park with a lot of tall trees and a river through it is people's favorite place in their free time. People like taking a walk or playing with their children there. Some people enjoy fishing in the river. Sometimes some children play in it. But the nice time perhaps will be changed by the great snakeheads and piranhas. Great snakeheads and piranhas are notorious. Great snakeheads will eat up all the other small fish. Humans may be attacked by these big fish when they get too close to these fish's nest (the fish's home). Piranhas are more terrible, and they attack children more often. Action must be taken for these two dangerous animals.

Great snakeheads and piranhas, in fact, are safe for eating. So why not hold fishing games several times a year in the park and have snakehead and piranha cooking parties at the same time? People can enjoy fishing and delicious fish dishes, and more importantly, the number of those fishes will be reduced year by year if we keep doing so.

Surely, holding these games and parties needs your help. As the director of Green Town, I ask you to take my ideas into consideration (考慮), and I am sure all the members of Green Town will join them happily. Thank you for your attention (注意) to this serious problem.

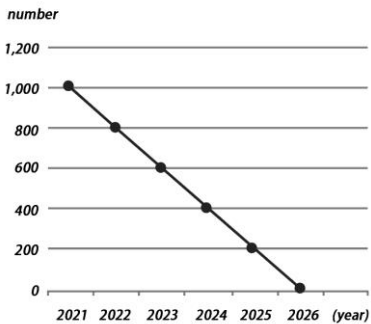

Sincerely,
Max Kennedy

- In what order (順序) does the writer talk about his points?
- (A) a→c→b. (B) c→b→a. (C) c→a→b. (D) b→c→a.

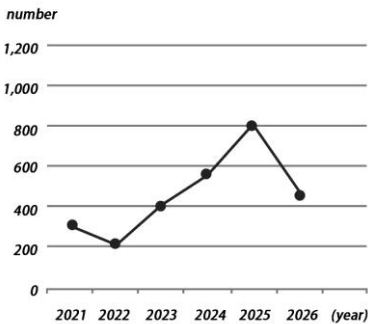

- ()49. What did the writer write the letter for?
- (A) To hold a cooking party.
 - (B) To join a cooking game.
 - (C) To keep the river clean.
 - (D) To make the river safer.

- ()50. If the number of something keeps being reduced year by year, what would the chart look like?

(B)

(C)

(D)
